HKU 2016 Idea-thon

YOU be the Change: Breaking Gender Stereotypes

Students are change agents! Join this Idea-thon on 26 August 2016 (afternoon). Read a one-page concept paper. Throw in your ideas in the brainstorming squads and collectively work out creative solutions on breaking gender stereotypes on campus and in the community. Make a short video clip of the idea, and the most innovative ideas will be posted on Twitter for worldwide polling. Read more …

Date: 26 August 2016 (Friday)
Time: 2:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. (Registration starts at 1:30 p.m.; refreshment will be provided)
Venue: CPD 3.28 Jockey Club Tower, Centennial Campus, HKU (map)
Registration:

The 2016 Idea-thon will engage students to think outside the box about how to become agents of change to make HKU and our communities inclusive, empowering and enabling environments for all – regardless of gender.

This brainstorming event will be led and facilitated by Elizabeth Nyamayaro – Head of the UN Women’s HeForShe Initiative and Senior Advisor to the Under Secretary-General of UN Women.

The most promising ideas will be posted online and voted on worldwide via Twitter. The voting results will be publicized to inspire actions to help create a better and more just environment for all.
